Activists Demand Real Affordability in NYC
Activistas Exigen Asequibilidad Verdadera en NYC

Over 50 trade and housing organizations, including Southside United HDFC-Los Sures®, formed the Real Affordability for All coalition to advocate for affordable housing and good paying jobs in New York City. Although rents continue to rise throughout the city, wages have not increased proportionally, causing many residents to be priced out of their communities.

Members of the coalition have begun asking for legislation that sets aside 50% of new units built for middle and low income families. Los Sures® activists represented the South Side and Brooklyn in full force at the march and rally that took place in Harlem on August 20, 2014. Over 1,000 community activists, union members, tenants, and elected officials turned out.

El Museo de Los Sures collaborated with the International Studio & Curatorial Program (ISCP) to host Michelle-Marie Letelier’s exhibition, Caliche Winds. Continuing with her investigations inspired by natural resources, Letelier’s work in this exhibition focused on the maritime route of sodium nitrate, or what is called the “Chilean salt-peter.” Salt peter, formerly used as a fertilizer and in gunpowder, is a symbol of a profitable industry that was once the main income of Chile, extracted from the Atacama Desert. Exported to Europe and U.S inside large wind-powered vessels, the compound made long journeys along the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, thus being part of a complex maritime history in 19th and early 20th centuries.

With Letelier’s expanded research on natural resources, she addresses historical contexts that stemmed an unveiled globalization and the increasing scarcity of raw materials, indicating specific relations between Chile, USA and Germany (Chile being Letelier’s home, U.S. where she presented her exhibition, and Germany where she lives). The exhibition staged two new research topics: saltpeter and wind. View more photos at www.lossures.org.

Senior Tenants Create Inspiring Mural in their Building
Inquilinos de la Tercera Edad Crean un Mural Inspirador en su Edificio

The senior housing building located at 201 Roebling Street began undergoing overall renovations this year. As part of the project, tenants had the opportunity to create a meaningful mural in the building’s lobby. The mural follows Southside United HDFC-Los Sures® initiative to implement “active design” in its developments to encourage walking and the use of stairs, so that tenants adopt a healthier lifestyle.

The mural artwork was led by Groundswell’s Shaquaya Givens with volunteers and community residents. Empleadas de Southside United HDFC-Los Sures® Iris Minaya y Shaquaya Givens con voluntarios y residentes de la comunidad.

On August 26th, Brooklyn Borough President Eric Adams announced $5,200,000 in funding to revitalize and create parks throughout the borough. The funding includes a 10% increase for parks as part of the administration’s capital budget for fiscal year 2015.

The BQGreen project, spearheaded by former Council Member and current Deputy Brooklyn Borough President Diana Reyna, will receive $1,000,000 in funding. The project aims to improve the quality of life for the residents of the South Side of Williamsburg by increasing open park space by 2 acres. To achieve this increase, the Brooklyn-Queens Expressway would be decked, similarly to the Klyde Warren Park located in Dallas, Texas.

The plan would also add trees, a community center and a swimming pool. Southside United HDFC – Los Sures® serves as the lead community organization for the project and excitedly welcomed the funding, hoping that it will encourage investors and other government entities to help make the park a reality.

"We commend Borough President Adams and Deputy Borough President Reyna’s vision to meet Brooklyn’s need for park space and for their commitment to making the BQGreen project a reality," said Southside United HDFC-Los Sures® Executive Director Ramon Peguero. "Asthma rates and other health issues continue to plague our community because of excessive pollution and a lack of adequate park space, and this project would be a significant step in addressing these problems."

As part of the overall funding, the McGoirick Park in Greenpoint and the Hecksher Playground in Bushwick will receive funding for much-needed renovations- $500,000 and $1,000,000 respectively.

El presidente del Borough de Brooklyn Eric Adams anunció la asignación de $5,200,000 en fondos para revitalizar y crear parques en varios vecindarios del borough. Los fondos incluyen un aumento de 10% para los parques como parte del presupuesto de la administración para el año fiscal 2015.

El proyecto BQGreen, el cual fue encabezado por la ex concejal y actual Vice Presidenta del Borough de Brooklyn Diana Reyna, recibirá $1,000,000 de fondos. El proyecto mejoraría la calidad de vida para los residentes de Los Sures de Williamsburg con un aumento de 2 acres de parque. Para lograr este aumento, se cubriría el Brooklyn-Queens Expressway, así como se hizo en el parque Klyde Warren en Dallas, Texas.

El plan también añadiría arboles, un centro comunitario y una piscina. Southside United HDFC – Los Sures® es la organización comunitaria líder del proyecto, y espera que los fondos animen a inversionistas y otras agencias del gobierno a que ayuden a hacer el parque una realidad.

“Elogiamos a el Presidente del Condado Adams y a la Vice Presidenta del Condado Reyna por su visión para cumplir con la necesidad de parques en Brooklyn y por estar comprometidos a hacer el proyecto BQGreen una realidad,” dijo el director ejecutivo de Southside United HDFC – Los Sures®. “El asma y otros problemas de la salud siguen afectando a nuestra comunidad por la polución excesiva y por la falta de parques, y este proyecto sería un paso significativo para abordar estos asuntos.”

Como parte del presupuesto, el parque McGoirick en Greenpoint y el parque Hecksher en Bushwick recibirán fondos para hacer renovaciones muy necesarias- $500,000 y $1,000,000 respectivamente.

Two employees at Southside United HDFC – Los Sures® have achieved major milestones serving the community of Williamsburg: Barbara Schliff and Robin Sirota Bassin, 40 years and 20 years respectively.

Barbara has devoted her entire career to advocating for the rights of tenants, from the time the South Side faced abandonment from landlord and city services to the current period of tenant displacement due to gentrification. She has seen her efforts come to fruition by the numerous tenant associations that she has helped to bring to life in their communities, and the battles she has won in favor of all tenants. She is well respected throughout the city, known by all housing activists as a pioneer in tenants’ rights advocacy.

Robin has been the main driving force behind the Los Sures® Social Services department. She has led the expansion of services provided and reach in the community. Thanks to her efforts the Los Sures® Food Pantry, which was named “Agency of the Year” by the Food Bank for New York City, provides over 1,500 individuals monthly groceries assistance.

Southside United HDFC – Los Sures® is proud of the individuals that make the organization thrive and whose passion has helped sustain an entire neighborhood. On behalf of the community: Thank you Barbara and Robin!

Riders Seek Permanent Free Transfer at Broadway G Train Station

Due to the G train shutdown over the summer, the MTA implemented a temporary fee waiver for individuals transferring between the G train at Broadway Station and the J and the M trains at Lorimer. On August 27th, members of the Riders Alliance, elected officials at rally.

David Estrada, a member of the Riders Alliance who lives off the G train in Brooklyn. “I'm unemployed at the moment and I don't have a monthly MetroCard. I feel cheated because I've already paid my fare and there's a transfer that I can see but I can't use! Why should I have to pay double to visit my friends and family? I call on the MTA to do what is fair and make this free transfer permanent.”

El Puente & Southside Merchants present the second Southside Connex Community Festival

El Puente y los Comerciantes de Los Sures Presentan el Segundo Festival Comunitario Southside Connex.

By Tina Orlandini

El Puente Green Light District and the Southside Merchants with the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce are closing down four blocks of Havemeyer Street to present the second Southside Connex Community Festival. In conjunction with NYC Department of Transportation’s Weekend Walks program, on September 13th and 20th, from 1:00 to 6:00 PM, Havemeyer Street between Grand Street and South 4th Street will be closed to vehicular traffic. These streets will be filled with family friendly activities, art-making workshops, games, merchant specials, health & wellness workshops, environmental justice information, and community resources.

Additionally, El Puente’s annual ¡WEPA! Festival of Southside Performing Arts will be featured on September 20th, bringing a showcase of predominantly Latino performers to sing and dance to. This year’s Southside Connex will focus particular attention on the crucial issue of climate change and provide information for the People’s Climate March happening on Sunday, September 21st.

Last year, Southside Connex attracted nearly 2,000 community members, artists, young people, merchants, and tourists to the Southside. It is remembered as an event that celebrates the Latino culture of the neighborhood and offers neighbors the chance to connect, share, and celebrate in the streets of Los Sures.

Lindsay Park Residents Demand Fair Elections

Residentes de Lindsay Park Exigen Elecciones Justas

On August 19th, Shareholders for the Betterment of Lindsay Park were joined by Council Member Antonio Reynoso and community activists at a press conference to call on the Lindsay Park Board of Directors to act after submitting a petition demanding a fair and transparent process during board elections. Residents felt that candidates, often board members themselves, have taken advantage of a proxy voting system by pressuring residents to turn over their proxy votes, rather than casting their own votes. Over 900 shareholders signed the petition, seeking the creation of a directed proxy system, including a list of candidates indicating who they support, and limits the number of proxies one person can collect.

For those who don’t know what turmeric is, it is a yellow spice that has been long used in Indian cooking and ayurvedic medicine in India. It is an anti-inflammatory agent, treating a variety of conditions like fatigue, jaundice, menstrual difficulties, blood in urine, hemorrhage, toothache, bruises, colic, and more. The yellow or orange pigment of turmeric called curcumin is the primary pharmacological ingredient of the spice. Curcumin is very effective in treating inflammatory bowel disease and Crohn’s disease. Clinical studies have shown that curcumin has powerful antioxidant effects. Turmeric’s combination of antioxidants and anti-inflammatory properties provide great relief for those suffering arthritis and joint diseases. Speak Your Truth

So many times we hold back from speaking up or speaking our truths. So many times we swallow our words either through intimidation or to be the bigger person. But what are we doing with that energy we swallowed and didn’t release? Where is it? Where does it go? What happens?

Well, sometimes resentment starts to build and/or we start feeling small and powerless or perhaps we feel like it is a great sacrifice of love to “keep quiet.” But… if it is affecting you, if in those quiet moments you feel some shame about not speaking up, please look closer, for this is a clue. Your resistance is a clue. It tells you to look here. It is asking you to look at it. Be with your truth. And send love and gratitude to your truth.

If you are ready to release it, here are a few suggestions to try:
• Speak your truths in front of the mirror.
• Write out your feelings in a journal.
• Or perhaps you are ready to share your truth with another. They say the truth will set you free. Once you walk through the door of truth, you will know why this saying lives on today.

Diga Su Verdad

Tantas veces no nos dejamos alzar nuestras voces o decir nuestras verdades. Tantas veces nos tragamos nuestras palabras porque estamos intimidados o para ser la mejor persona. Pero ¿qué estamos haciendo con esa energía que nos tragamos y no soltamos? ¿Dónde está? ¿A dónde se va? ¿Qué pasa?

Bueno, a veces el resentimiento se empieza a acumular y nos empeñamos a sentir pequeños y sin poder, o quizás nos sentimos que es un sacrificio de amor “quedarse callado.” Pero, si le está afectando, si en esos momentos callados usted siente vergüenza de no alzar la voz, por favor fíjese un poco más, porque esto puede ser una pista. Su resistencia es una pista. Le está diciendo que se fije allí. Le está pidiendo que la vea. Viva con su verdad y envíe amor y agradecimiento a su verdad.

Si usted está listo(a) para soltarla, aquí tiene algunas sugerencias:
• Diga sus verdades enfrente de un espejo.
• Escriba sus sentimientos en un diario.
• Tal vez ya esté listo(a) para compartir su verdad con otra persona.

Dican que la verdad lo liberará. Una vez que usted camine por la puerta de la verdad, usted entenderá...
